RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

1. Relator®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You enjoy close relationships. You find deep satisfaction in working hard with friends to achieve a goal.

WHY YOUR RELATOR IS UNIQUE

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

Chances are good that you consistently measure up to your high expectations when working, studying, or playing.

Instinctively, you have friends, and then you have good friends. For you, the distinction is clear. You can tell your small circle of good friends anything, and you know your relationship is strong, deep and genuine.

Driven by your talents, you know that truly good friends are hard to find. You want to protect your best friendships, so you stay in touch and keep the lines of communication open.

By nature, you feel most fulfilled when you are busy and simply performing routine tasks. When you have nothing to do, typically you find something to do. Sitting around and wasting time does not suit you at all.

It's very likely that you do not want to take the close connections you have with your best friends for granted. You might schedule events on your calendar with close friends so you don't forget to spend time with them.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING RELATOR

You naturally form genuine and mutually rewarding one-on-one relationships. Your authenticity allows you to build close, long-lasting connections that foster trust and confidence.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Connect deeply with the right people to gain friends for life.

- Try to get one-on-one time with people, rather than attempting to connect with them in a group. This will help you build the deeper and trusting relationships you value most.
- Stay in contact with your friends, no matter how busy you are. Your closest relationships energize you.
- Make sure people know that you are more interested in their character and personality than in their status or job title. You might serve as a model for others.
- Let your caring show. For example, find someone to mentor, help your coworkers get to know one another better or deepen your existing relationships.
- Look for workplaces, classes, teams or groups that encourage friendships. You prefer a casual style and culture and will likely not do well in overly formal situations.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Because Relators typically do not trust others implicitly and people have to earn your trust over time, some may think you are hard to get to know. Be aware of this perception with new people you meet as well as with the people you see every day.
- Your tendency to spend more time with the people you know best might give the impression that you are exclusive or unfriendly to those outside your inner circle. Consider that you might be missing out on the benefits of widening the circle and getting to know more people.

RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

2. Empathy®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You have an instinctive ability to understand people. You feel others' emotions as if they were your own.

WHY YOUR EMPATHY IS UNIQUE

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

Chances are good that you may sense a person's emotional state at a given moment. Perhaps you can tune in to another's feelings, thoughts or needs. Sometimes you gain valuable insights. Periodically, these discoveries prompt you to acknowledge what certain individuals have done well. To some degree, you pay attention to the minor, not just the major, progress someone makes. Now and then, you might accelerate a person's growth as a human being or as a professional.

Instinctively, you are sensitive to the fluctuating moods of individuals. This is why you strive to show no favoritism. You want each person to have the same opportunities, access to information, and resources. Dealing with people impartially probably is one of your core values.

Driven by your talents, you have keen awareness and insights into the moods of individuals. You tend to be highly responsive to others' thoughts and feelings. Not everyone can sit with a person as he or she experiences a full range of emotions: happiness, anger, frustration, gratitude, contentment, sadness, elation, despair, or grief. You rarely distance yourself from those who you sense need you to be there for them.

Because of your strengths, you have a way of soothing people. You are honored when a person entrusts to you his or her innermost secrets, longings, feelings, hopes, ideas, or fears. Your ability to sense someone's emotions often eases the person's anxiety.

It's very likely that you are fully aware of what is said when people confide in you. They know you hear them. They know you care about them. They know you comprehend what they are thinking and feeling. Often friends turn to you to test an idea or express an opinion. Based on your comments, they can evaluate whether their ideas make sense.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING EMPATHY

You have great emotional depth. Your awareness of the expression, value and implications of others' emotions makes them feel like you understand them.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Appreciate and refine your gift for understanding others' thoughts and feelings.

- Create a list of great questions that help others describe their emotions and experiences. Experiment using these questions with friends. Refine your list by keeping the questions that best help others express their thoughts and feelings.
- Practice refining the words you use to name your own feelings as well as those you observe in others. Try this: Journal your emotions for one week. Stop throughout the day to capture what you are feeling. Try to use different words to describe your experience each time.
- Be sure to decompress at the end of each day. Develop a routine that allows you to unwind and relax. If you don't, at times, the depth of your emotions might overwhelm or drain you.
- Refine your nonverbal communication. Sometimes it is better to be silent. You have the talent to show other people that you know how they feel without saying a word.
- Act quickly and firmly if people are behaving in a way that is unhealthy for them or those around them. Understanding individuals' emotional states does not mean that you must excuse their behavior.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Pay attention to your energy levels. Constantly experiencing others' emotions can be draining, so try to occasionally disconnect from all the emotions so you don't get burned out.
- Because you are so sensitive to others' emotions, some people might think you are prying or overinvolved in their lives. Be careful not to overstep when others prefer to keep their feelings to themselves.

RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

3. Individualization®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You are intrigued with the unique qualities of each person. You have a gift for figuring out how different people can work together productively.

WHY YOUR INDIVIDUALIZATION IS UNIQUE

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

It's very likely that you may realize that each individual's interests, background, motivations, desires, fears, and work style are different. Perhaps you strive to honor everyone's unique qualities and preferences. Understanding the ambitions of particular people might give you insights into the type of support, training, experiences, partnerships, or nurturing each person needs to thrive.

Because of your strengths, you might rely on the diverse viewpoints of certain teammates to spark conversations that produce exciting ideas. Perhaps you agree that "The whole is greater than the sum of its parts" — that when everyone asks questions, offers solutions, describes situations, or raises issues, the group's collective intelligence may exceed that of any single person.

By nature, you occasionally scrutinize yourself from the vantage point of an outsider looking in. Somewhat aware of your public persona — that is, the personality you present to the world — you may strive to appear confident and polished. This partially explains why you intentionally strive to be perceived as a talented, skilled, knowledgeable, trustworthy, and accomplished individual.

Instinctively, you fully experience what others are feeling. You can easily view things from someone else's perspective even when you do not share their opinion. You deal with each individual on a personal level. You instinctively know what someone is feeling, based on the person's words, deeds, silence, or body gestures.

Chances are good that you bring people together. You form a bond with each individual as you begin to understand his or her circumstances. You naturally identify with someone's situation. You have a gift for helping people discover what they have in common. Often this frees them to communicate and cooperate.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING INDIVIDUALIZATION

You notice and appreciate each person's unique characteristics, and you don't treat everyone the same. Because you can see what makes each individual unique, you know how to bring out their best.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Appreciate the uniqueness in each person you meet.

- Become an expert at describing your own strengths and style. What is the best praise you ever received? What is your best method for building relationships? How do you learn best?
- Ask your coworkers and friends these same questions. Help them create a future based on their strengths and what they do best.
- See the talents in others, and encourage them to follow their dreams. Help individuals understand and maximize the power of their talents.
- Study successful people to discover the uniqueness that made them successful.
- Help your coworkers and friends become more aware of each person's unique motivations and needs.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- You often know more about others than they know about you, and when people don't naturally show awareness of your likes, dislikes, motivations and needs, this may disappoint you. Recognize that you will need to share your preferences with people, and don't assume they will instinctively know.
- Your natural impulse is to put individual needs and goals ahead of what is best for the group. To prevent the appearance of favoritism and bias, acknowledge that sometimes you will need to adjust your style for the greater good.

STRATEGIC THINKING

4. Ideation®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You are fascinated by ideas. You see connections that others don't and can view the world from different perspectives.

WHY YOUR IDEATION IS UNIQUE

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

Driven by your talents, you have lots of innovative ways of doing things. Your clever inventions probably benefit your coworkers, teammates, classmates, family, and friends.

It's very likely that you sometimes detect curious configurations, emerging trends, or potential problems that other cannot foresee. Perhaps this gift draws you into conversations with people who think a lot about the future of their profession, the environment, the eradication of disease, conflict resolution, or economics.

By nature, you sometimes use words, terms, or phrases that force people to stop and think in new ways.

Chances are good that you intentionally seek out what is new and different. Unexplored territory appeals to your adventurous spirit. You like to test your limits as a human being in travel, work, sports, or thinking. Even when others worry about your well-being, you trust you can take care of yourself.

Instinctively, you logically think through how to approach your projects. You step back to figure out how things work. You consider why mechanisms, processes, programs, or rules failed in the past. You rely on facts to decide how many people the project needs, how much time they need to complete each phase, and what tools they need to succeed.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING IDEATION

You are fascinated by ideas. Because you enjoy looking at the world from different perspectives and are always searching for connections, you are a powerful and creative brainstorming partner.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Refine your creativity to inspire and energize yourself and others.

- Make small changes in your work or home routines. Experiment. Play mental games with yourself. You likely get bored quickly, so these adjustments can keep you engaged.
- Take time to read, explore and think. Others' ideas and experiences can energize you and help you form new ideas.
- Understand the fuel for your Ideation talents. When do you get your best ideas? When you're talking with people? When you're reading? When you're simply listening or observing? Identify the circumstances when you get your best ideas so you can recreate them.
- Think through your ideas before you communicate them. Not everyone will be able to "connect the dots" of an interesting but incomplete idea and might dismiss it.
- Discuss your ideas with others. Because you have so many to share, you make brainstorming sessions exciting and productive. Their feedback will help you refine your thoughts.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Your limitless thoughts and ideas can sometimes overwhelm and confuse people. Consider refining your ideas and sharing only the best so others won't reject them simply because they cannot follow your abstract thinking.
- You might struggle to follow through on the ideas you generate. Think about collaborating with someone who can help you turn your best ideas into real results.

RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

5. Developer®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You recognize and cultivate the potential in others. You spot the signs of each small improvement and love when you see someone make progress.

WHY YOUR DEVELOPER IS UNIQUE

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

Because of your strengths, you occasionally impart confidence to certain people by reinforcing the high regard you have for them as individuals.

By nature, you sense when a person can benefit from your support, kind words, or thoughtful deeds. Perhaps you have an ability to lift certain people's sagging spirits by what you do or say. In the process, you might enhance some individuals' self-confidence enough that they dare to acquire knowledge, gain new skills, or broaden their experiences.

It's very likely that you may have a knack for talking to people. Perhaps you have ways to engage them in discussions. Perhaps you encourage them to share their stories, ideas, or feelings. Sometimes you want to contribute to the dialogue, too. This partially explains why you look for opportunities to express yourself as often as possible. Once in a while, you might acknowledge or affirm the interesting comments of specific individuals.

Chances are good that you sometimes move into up-close and personal relationships with people. Knowing what makes individuals unique may provide you with clues about the best way to support or inspire each person.

Instinctively, you occasionally pinpoint the unique qualities, motivations, strengths, limitations, preferences, or attitudes of certain people. Perhaps you look for one or two good things in each person. Maybe this information permits you to set up opportunities for particular individuals to cooperate. You automatically compliment those who freely share their knowledge, skills, or talents with their teammates, classmates, colleagues, coworkers, friends, or family members.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING DEVELOPER

You see the raw potential in people and even small signs of progress as you actively invest in their development. Your encouragement helps others learn, grow and improve.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Recognize and cultivate the potential in others.

- Make a list of people you would like to coach or mentor — people whose potential, signs of growth and strengths you have noticed. Offer to meet with them regularly, even if only for a few minutes, to discuss their goals and strengths.
- Call, text or email people who need your encouragement the most. Your natural ability to nurture and inspire might be just what they need to hear.
- Try not to spend all your time encouraging people who are consistently struggling in their role. Sometimes the best developmental action is to help them find a different role — one that fits.
- Find roles in which your primary responsibilities include developing others. Teaching, coaching or managing might be especially satisfying for you.
- Boost your friends' and coworkers' confidence. You will naturally notice when they learn and grow, so share your specific observations with them to help them keep making progress.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- You may become overinvested in someone's development and feel personally responsible if they are struggling. Accept that sometimes, the best option is for them to find their own path forward.
- Be careful not to devote so much time to other people that you forget to invest in your own development. Remember that you can't help others if you don't take time to work on yourself.

RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

6. Harmony®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You look for consensus. You have no use for unnecessary friction and guide others toward practical solutions.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING HARMONY

You are naturally practical and prefer emotional balance. You can prevent arguments before they start by quickly helping others find common ground and a resolution.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Help others find common ground through practical solutions.

- Build a network of people with different perspectives whom you can rely on when you need expertise. Your openness to other viewpoints will help you learn.
- Increase unity by increasing the number of voices. When people are arguing, ask others to share their thoughts. You are more likely to find areas where all parties can agree when you have more perspectives.
- Polish your talents by taking a conflict-resolution course. The skills and knowledge you gain will combine with your talents to create a strength in handling conflicts.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- In your desire to move conversations toward practical and common-sense decisions, you may frustrate those who want to share broader ideas and opinions. Allow others to express their ideas fully before bringing them back to the task at hand.
- You may instinctively downplay confrontational situations and try to suppress others from openly airing their ideas and emotions. Recognize and accept that there will be times when conflict is inevitable and that some people will revel in it.

EXECUTING

7. Consistency®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You are keenly aware of the need to treat people the same. You crave stable routines and clear rules and procedures that everyone can follow.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING CONSISTENCY

You can easily and quickly make judgments and create systems that are fair to everyone. As a result, others know what to expect from you.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Create fair systems to establish and build trust.

- Look for opportunities at work or in your community to help disadvantaged people get the platform they need to show their true potential. Your talent to quickly and easily make judgments that are fair to everyone helps ensure equality.
- Always stand up for what you believe, even in the face of strong resistance. Others will appreciate your commitment to consistency between what you promise and what you deliver.
- Create simple rules and boundaries that help people know what is expected and how they need to operate in ambiguous situations. Your talent for making things fair and equal creates stability and clarity.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- You are so committed to treating each person the same that you might forget that no two people are alike. Remember that different things motivate different people, and everyone has their own way of thinking and relating to others.
- You may see yourself as a guardian of what is right and a champion against special treatment. Realize that others may reject you for assuming that responsibility and will want to bend the rules for the greater good.

EXECUTING

8. Achiever®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You work hard and possess a great deal of stamina. You take immense satisfaction in being busy and productive.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING ACHIEVER

You love to complete tasks, and your accomplishments fulfill you. You have a strong inner drive — an innate source of intensity, energy and power that motivates you to work hard to get things done.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Bring intensity and effort to the most important areas of your life.

- Set challenging goals. Take advantage of your self-motivation with a more ambitious goal every time you finish a project.
- Take time to celebrate each success before moving on to your next item or task, even for just a few minutes.
- Limit your commitments to projects or assignments that align with your highest priorities as much as you can.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- You might get frustrated when others don't work as hard as you do, and they might see you as too demanding. Remember that not everyone has the same high expectations for themselves or is driven to work as hard as you are.
- Your pressing need to get things done might cause you to take on projects or agree to deadlines before you know everything that's involved. Before you commit to something, make sure you have the time and resources you need to do it right.

EXECUTING

9. Discipline®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You enjoy routine and structure. Your world is best described by the order you create.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING DISCIPLINE

You need organization, order and precision. Your controlled planning and routines increase efficiency and bring predictability and structure to turmoil.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Create structure, and keep things organized.

- Check as often as necessary to ensure that tasks and projects are completed correctly and on time. You feel an urge to do it anyway, and soon enough, others will begin to expect it from you.
- Share your routines and structure. Your detailed lists of tasks, goals and timelines can increase others' efficiency.
- Accept that not many people are as disciplined as you. Instead of letting their processes frustrate you, try to focus on their results and not their methods.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Because of your need for predictability and control, others might view you as rigid and inflexible. Try not to automatically dismiss ideas that do not directly fit into the neat framework you have created.
- As much as you thrive on structure and organization, others thrive on the freedom to innovate. Be careful about expecting others to follow any structure you put in place.

STRATEGIC THINKING

10. Futuristic®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You vividly imagine the future. You inspire and energize others with your vision of what could be.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING FUTURISTIC

You are a visionary. Your powerful anticipation and detailed visualization of a better future can turn aspirations into reality. Your vision of tomorrow can inspire and push others to new heights.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Share your visions of a better future.

- Use as much detail as possible when you describe what you see on the horizon. Not everyone can naturally fill in the gaps between the present and future like you can.
- Choose roles that allow you to contribute your ideas about the future. For example, you might excel in entrepreneurial or startup situations.
- Help those who are struggling imagine their future. You naturally foresee a better tomorrow, and that motivates you to overlook today's pain and problems.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Because you live in the future, you may find it difficult to enjoy the present moment. While it will always be important for you to have things to look forward to, don't overlook opportunities to experience and appreciate where you are now.
- Some people may dismiss your visions because they can't see the future like you do. Accept that you must address real issues today to get to a better tomorrow.

Your greatest opportunity to reach your full potential is developing and using your strongest CliftonStrengths. But it is also important to understand all 34 of your CliftonStrengths themes.

Your unique CliftonStrengths 34 profile

The themes toward the top of your CliftonStrengths 34 profile might show up regularly in your life, and the ones closer to the bottom might not show up at all.

To fully understand your talent DNA, consider how all your CliftonStrengths themes, separately or in combination, influence your work and personal life. In addition to concentrating on your top 10 themes:

- Navigate the middle. You might notice these CliftonStrengths themes in your behaviors from time to time. And you may need to rely on them in certain situations. Think of these themes as a support system you can use when you need to.
- Manage the bottom. Just as your top CliftonStrengths show you who you are, those at the bottom may tell you who you are not. They aren't necessarily weaknesses, but they are your least powerful themes. If you don't manage them properly, they could prevent you from maximizing your potential.
- Identify weaknesses. To determine if any themes are getting in your way, review the "What Is a Weakness?" section on the next page, and find out how to overcome potential obstacles to your success.

To learn more about your entire CliftonStrengths profile, see the "Your CliftonStrengths 34 Theme Sequence" section at the end of the report.

Focusing on your CliftonStrengths doesn't mean you can ignore your weaknesses.

Gallup defines a weakness as anything that gets in the way of your success.

While the CliftonStrengths assessment does not mathematically quantify weaknesses, you can use your profile to understand how any of your CliftonStrengths themes might prevent you from maximizing your potential.

Your strongest CliftonStrengths are your best opportunity for success. But in some situations and with some people, these same themes can hinder your effectiveness and become blind spots.

The themes at the bottom of your profile can also get in the way of your success. They aren't necessarily weaknesses, but they likely do not come naturally to you.

To identify potential weaknesses, ask yourself:

- Does this theme ever undermine my success?
- Have I ever received negative feedback related to this theme?
- Does my role require me to use this theme, but I feel drained when I do?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, you may be discovering areas of weakness. Don't ignore your weaknesses. Instead, focus on your strengths, and work to manage the areas that get in your way.

How do I manage my weaknesses?

- Claim them: Know your weaknesses and how they get in your way
- Collaborate: Ask partners for support
- Apply a strength: Use a different theme to achieve a better outcome
- Just do it: Lean in and do your best

Identify Your Unique Contribution: The CliftonStrengths® Domains

While your CliftonStrengths 34 profile helps you understand who you are, there is also power in knowing how you make things happen, influence others, build relationships and process information. The framework of the four CliftonStrengths domains — Executing, Influencing, Relationship Building and Strategic Thinking — is another way to think about your CliftonStrengths and how you contribute when you join, create or lead a team.

The best teams are made up of individuals who understand their own — and others' — unique contribution to the team. This awareness and appreciation empowers the team to be more cohesive, versatile, productive and engaged.

However, be careful not to let the four domains limit your thinking. If you don't have any top themes in a particular domain, don't worry. That doesn't mean you can't think strategically or build relationships, for example. Everyone accomplishes tasks, influences others, builds relationships and processes information. You just use your stronger themes in different domains to get to the same outcome.

The next page shows you how your unique CliftonStrengths profile sorts into the four domains. Knowing which domain you lead with can help you understand your most powerful contribution.

The CliftonStrengths Domains

EXECUTING

People with dominant Executing themes make things happen.

INFLUENCING

People with dominant Influencing themes take charge, speak up and make sure others are heard.

RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

People with dominant Relationship Building themes build strong relationships that hold a team together and make it greater than the sum of its parts.

STRATEGIC THINKING

People with dominant Strategic Thinking themes absorb and analyze information that informs better decisions.

You lead with Relationship Building CliftonStrengths® themes.

You know how to build strong relationships that can hold a team together and make the team greater than the sum of its parts.

This chart shows the relative distribution of your unique CliftonStrengths 34 results across the four domains. These categories are a good starting point for you to examine where you have the most potential to perform with excellence and how you can best contribute to a team.
